Get your kids a State Farm Money Tree simple, low-cost policy from State Farm Life is like a money tree. It grows up with your youngsters, and bears big green dollars you can use for their college education. And unlike savings or investment plans, a money tree gives you an immediate estate, as big as you want, right from the start. For example, if you're a 25 year old Dad and your future college man is 1 month old, you pay only $15.30 each month for a money tree that will produce about $3350* in cash by his 18th birthday. And all the while it's growing, there's $10,000 protection in case you should die. So make sure your little guy has the best thing growing for him. Guarantee his education with a State Farm money tree—an up-to-date life policy from the same family insurance man who probably saves you money on car insurance, your State Farm agent.

YOUR LIFE

I'VE GOT

A SECRET

This may be a turning point for television. There is a feeling of excitement in the air, a note of happy anticipation the industry hasn't experienced in years.

It's not necessarily prompted by the new prime-time shows, which are the usual assortment—in color—but by the fine, long list of specials that will pre-empt regular series. Most impressive of all is the number of dramatic specials. The networks are in active competition for dramas and for writers, with big money being offered to tempt TV dropouts back to the fold. This augurs well.

Another encouraging development is the Ford Foundation's proposal for allocating the profits from commercial television use of domestic communications satellites to help support noncommercial television. While this particular plan may not be adopted, the Ford people have opened a practical dialog into ways to pay for educational TV. Thus a dim future for any sort of television to supplement commercial, mass-oriented television has suddenly brightened.

It should be a good season for new ideas—on and off the screen.

KEEP TUNED TO NBC! EVERYTHING IN COLOR!

And so it begins. A new season, new hopes, new triumphs, new disasters, new thrills, new disappointments, new surprises.

There are 35 new weekly prime-time series, most of them making their debuts this week. They include the usual large quota of half-hour comedies (14 new laughers joining 14 holdovers), plus more movies (making a total of five a week from the networks in prime time), spies (James Bond's descendants continue to multiply), comebacks (Milton Berle, Garry Moore, Ann Sheridan, Jean Arthur), old heroes reincarnated (Tarzan, The Green Hornet), an extraordinary series of high-powered specials (ABC Stage 67) and sundry other candidates for immortality or oblivion. All of them are described in detail, day by day, later on in this issue.

But 35 weekly series do not a season make. There are, in addition, those shows called "specials" — the big ones that are scheduled just once but, if they click, leave a lasting impression on viewers and an indelible imprint on a television season.

This year a word that hasn't been heard much around the networks lately is back in vogue. The word is "drama." All three networks are preparing drama specials—works by such playwrights as Shakespeare, Chekhov, Tennessee Williams and Arthur Miller, and a few originals by newer dramatists. In their casts are Sir John Gielgud, Lynn Fontanne, Shirley Booth, Julie Harris and Sidney Poitier, among others.

The dramas promise to enrich an already appetizing repast of one-shot entertainment shows and news-department specials. Here's what's on the menu of specials now, with more to be added as the season progresses.

SPECIALS

Woody Allen, the offbeat funnyman, will write and star in an ABC special.

Lucille Ball tours London with Anthony Newley on CBS Oct. 24. She may do a spring special too.

Tony Bennett, backed by jazzmen, sings on ABC Oct. 26.

Jack Benny plans one NBC special this season, for airing Dec. 1.

Charlie Brown and the rest of the salty "Peanuts" gang will be seen in an animated Halloween show Oct. 27 and a rerun of "A Charlie Brown Christmas" Dec. 11, both on CBS.

Carol Burnett is slated for two CBS outings, the first Oct. 9, with Rock Hudson.

Sid Caesar will be reunited with Imogene Coca for a "Show of Shows Revisited" one-shot on CBS in April.

Perry Como returns with seven NBC telecasts; the first Nov. 21.

Lorne Greene breaks away from the Ponderosa long enough to star in a Christmas special for NBC, Dec. 17.

Andy Griffith reckons as how he'll do one CBS special.

George Hamilton is host of "Class of '67," an NBC variety show with Don Adams and Nancy Sinatra scheduled for this Saturday (Sept. 10).

Bob Hope springs for five hour-long comedy specials (the first, Sept. 28) and his annual 90-minute Christmas tour, on NBC.

Jim Nabors is joined by a couple of other country folks, Andy Griffith and Ernie Ford, in a CBS special Oct. 12.

Soupy Sales has taped an hour of buffoonery for ABC.

Frank Sinatra has a second "A Man and His Music" program ready for CBS airing Dec. 7. Daughter Nancy joins him.

Red Skelton, in "Clown Alley" on CBS Nov. 9, pays tribute to circus Pagliaccis.

Tommy Steele, the English song-and-dance man, has signed on for an NBC special.

Barbra Streisand is expected to do an hour for CBS after her baby arrives.

Danny Thomas is set for three NBC shows, the first Dec. 11.

Dick Van Dyke, free from weekly chores, has one CBS special, April 10. continued

"Alice Through the Looking Glass," on NBC Nov. 6, is a 90-minute musical with Judi Rolin, Agnes Moorehead, Jimmy Durante and Nanette Fabray.

Bell Telephone Hour has adopted a "new approach" that will take it all over the globe to film musical events wherever they take place—Spoleto, Italy (the annual "Festival of Two Worlds"); Tanglewood, Lenox, Mass. (Berkshire Festival); Comblain-la-Tour, Belgium (International Jazz Festival); San Francisco (the city's musical life); Denver (Handel's "Messiah" performed by the Mormon Tabernacle Choir). NBC carries the show alternate Sunday evenings, beginning Sept. 25.

"Brigadoon," the Lerner-and-Loewe musical, has been restaged for a 90-minute ABC special Oct. 15. Robert Goulet, Sally Ann Howes, Peter Falk, Edward Villella star.

"Cinderella," with music by Rodgers and Hammerstein, gets a repeat showing over CBS Jan. 18.

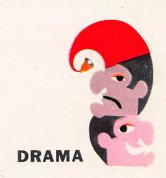

G-E Fantasy Hour, on NBC, has "The Ballad of Smokey the Bear" scheduled Nov. 27, and a rerun of "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer" Dec. 11.

"How the Grinch Stole Christmas" sets a Dr. Seuss book to music for a half-hour animated cartoon on CBS Dec. 18.

"Jack and the Beanstalk" has music, live action, animation, and Gene Kelly as producer, director and star. It's on NBC's docket for February.

"S. Hurok Presents," Feb. 12, is a 90minute CBS tribute to the impresario, with Marian Anderson, Van Cliburn, Andrés Segovia, Isaac Stern and the Bolshoi Ballet. Young People's Concerts, four of them conducted by Leonard Bernstein, return for a 10th CBS season Nov. 23.

Ballets on the schedule include ABC's "Beauty and the Beast," performed by the San Francisco Ballet, and a CBS repeat of "The Nutcracker" Dec. 9.

CBS Playhouse is reserved for original dramas of varying lengths, a few of which will turn up as specials this season. Reginald Rose is writing one of them.

"The Crucible," Arthur Miller's drama of an early New England witch hunt, will be one of several CBS two-hour drama specials. The date: March 9.

"Death of a Salesman," the Miller play which launched the network drama revival, will be rerun by CBS April 16.

Charles Dickens will be portrayed by Emlyn Williams for an hour of readings from the novelist's works on CBS Jan. 22.

"The Glass Menagerie" stars Shirley Booth in Tennessee Williams' fragile play, also on CBS, Dec. 8.

Hallmark Hall of Fame plans five NBC productions: Sir James Barrie's "The Admirable Crichton"; Guy Bolton's "Anastasia," starring Julie Harris and Lynn Fontanne; Maxwell Anderson's "Barefoot in Athens," with Peter Ustinov and Geraldine Page; Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit"; and one rerun, Robert E. Sherwood's "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," with Jason Robards Jr.

"The Investigation," a controversial play by Peter Weiss ("Marat/Sade") will be adapted for NBC showing early in 1967, after its Broadway debut. NBC also plans to launch a Sunday afternoon series of experimental dramas early next year.

"Ivanov," starring Sir John Gielgud and Claire Bloom, is a Chekhov tragedy which CBS will do in a 90-minute version May 28.

"Mark Twain Tonight!" features Hal Holbrook, impersonating Twain in a one-man CBS show in May.

"Othello." with Sidney Poitier as Shakespeare's jealous Moor, will make a two-hour NBC drama special.

Movies as TV specials include "The Bridge on the River Kwai" (ABC, Sept. 25), "Hans Christian Andersen" (ABC, Nov. 4) and, again, "The Wizard of Oz" (CBS, Feb. 12).

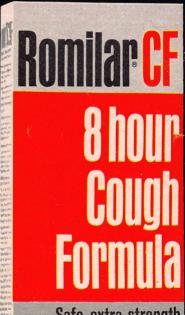

Award Shows include the Oscars and Emmys on ABC, and the Golden Globe Awards on NBC's Andy Williams Show.

Beauty Contests begin with the Miss America Pageant this week (Sept. 10) on NBC. Later on there will be coverage of Miss Teen-Age America (Nov. 5) and, in the spring, Miss U.S.A. and Miss Universe, all on CBS.

Circuses and Carnivals slated for TV include the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus (NBC) and the annual "Marineland Carnival" (CBS), both in March.

Ice Shows seem to be an NBC specialty—the network has both the Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies (Nov. 2) and the Ice Capades of 1967 on its schedule.

Parades will march across TV screens on Thanksgiving (CBS and NBC) and Jan. 2 (Tournament of Roses Parade, also both CBS and NBC). If you take 8-hour Romilar tonight, you can be laughing at Batman, sobbing at Peyton Place, sighing over The Fugitive...

Safe, extra-strength non-narcotic cough syrup and relieving your cough.

Africa is the subject of a 3½-hour special ABC is preparing for next spring, as the first in what may become a yearly series of programs "designed to convey a comprehensive view of the life, customs and heritage of the peoples of various regions of the world."

"The American Image" shows our Nation through the eyes of its artists. The NBC special is based on the resources of the Whitney Museum of American Art.

Britain's Royal Palaces—from Buckingham on down—and their art treasures are being filmed for another NBC cultural special; air date is Jan. 29.

Essays will be big at CBS this season. Other correspondents will be given an opportunity to emulate Eric Sevareid, who delivered a half-hour TV essay on Vietnam a few months ago. And there will be an essay on women along the lines of acclaimed earlier shows about bridges, doors and hotels.

Homework is still with us—CBS plans to test viewers' knowledge of current events and sports.

The Incredible World of Animals, a series of occasional NBC specials, begins Nov. 25 with "It's a Dog's World."

National Geographic Society specials return Nov. 5 for a second season of four documentaries: on anthropological research in Africa, on insects, on Alaska and on sailing a ketch across Europe.

Politics is on the mind of newsmen at all three networks. They'll present specials covering the important Congressional and gubernatorial contests.

Project 20 has three shows working—one on the Plains Indians, narrated by Walter Brennan; another on Ellis Island, narrated by José Ferrer; and the third on "The Law and the Prophets."

The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich is a series of three one-hour specials based on William L. Shirer's book and produced by David L. Wolper.

Saga of Western Man is back with four shows: "Cortez and the Legend," "Christ Is Born," "Robert Falcon Scott: The Race to the South Pole" and "Faces of Rome."

Space Shots will continue to get TV coverage in specials as the Gemini program phases out and Project Apollo begins in earnest.

Town Meeting of the World, utilizing communications satellites, figures in CBS's plans again this season.

Vietnam—the war and the debate about it —will undoubtedly be the subject of numerous specials.

Westminster Abbey will be explored in an ABC program narrated by Sir Michael Redgrave.

"Young Mr. Eisenhower," on CBS this Tuesday (Sept. 13), takes the ex-President back to Abilene and West Point.

ABC News also plans specials on mental retardation, Tin Pan Alley, the possibility of life in outer space, narcotics victims, battlefield medics and other topics.

CBS News has a wide range of additional shows in the works, on such subjects as labor unions, homosexuality, the Russian Revolution, Red China, the mysteries of the mind, slum life and our prisons. Most of them will be telecast Tuesday nights, some under the CBS Reports banner, which will wave less often than in seasons past.

NBC News has a variety of other projects cooking too, including shows on justice in the U.S., air safety, cancer, American morality, the Hungarian revolution of 1956, race horses, the Pearl Harbor attack and the "domino nations" of Southeast Asia.

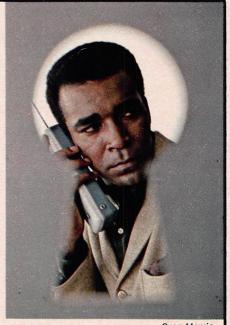

Now! More body-building protein than a peanut butter sandwich. And lots more fun.

MISSION: IMPOSSIBLE

is exactly what it sounds like: An elite team of undercover agents hop from one hot spot to another, performing incredible feats. One week they're South of the Border swiping two nuclear warheads from an impenetrable vault. Another week they're behind the Iron Curtain breaking into and out of a maximum-security prison. The brains of the outfit is Dan Briggs (Steven Hill), who calls on specialists to help pull off the stunts. His accomplices include an electronics expert (Greg Morris), a strongman (Peter Lupus) and, when he's needed, an actor with a genius for makeup and impersonation (Martin Landau). Rounding out the squad is a tasty dish named Cinnamon Carter (Barbara Bain), who comes in handy whenever it's necessary to distract enemy operatives from the swift completion of their appointed rounds-or skeptical viewers from way-out scripts. She's a busy girl. Debut: CBS, Saturday, Sept. 17.

IT'S ABOUT TIME

It's About Time is about two not-verybright astronauts (Frank Aletter, Jack Mullaney), who break through the time barrier and land in the Stone Age. It's about the not-very-bright cave family (Imogene Coca, Joe E. Ross, Mary Grace, Pat Cardi) that befriends them. It's about the not-verybright chieftain (Cliff Norton) and his not-very-bright lieutenant (Mike Mazurki). It's about dinosaur hunts, mastodon steaks, evil spirits and cavemen dragging cavewomen around by the hair. It's about the eternal verities (Caveman: "Man say, woman do." Astronaut: "I wonder how we let that custom get away"). It's about 30 minutes long. Debut: CBS, Sunday, Sept. 11.

Pistols
Petticoats

Left to Right: Ann Sheridan Gary Vinson Carole Wells Ruth McDevitt Douglas Fowley Pistols 'n' Petticoats brings back the "Oomph Girl" of the movies, Ann Sheridan, as the deadliest pistol-packin' mama since Ma Barker. She and her Wild West family are a heap more sociable than Mrs. Barker's, though; and the producers hope they'll be a lot more fun to spend a half hour with. The setting is the town of Wretched, Colo., where we find Henrietta Hanks (Miss Sheridan), the lady known as Hank, who totes a .38 in her shopping

Hey Landlord! takes a carefree young man from Ohio and sets him loose in New York City, where an uncle has bequeathed him an old brownstone. Woody Banner spends his life looking after his building. becoming involved with its tenants (it has been subdivided into apartments), trying on various jobs and girls for size, and putting up with his roommate. The roomy is Chuck Hookstratten, a brash city boy who wants to be a comedian. The two bachelors hit it off pretty well, but occasionally things get a bit strained. CHUCK: "You're not the greatest guy in the world to live with, you know. I have to listen to all your lecturing about principles and ideals. It's like living with Abraham Lincoln." Woody: "He was a great man." CHUCK: "But I bet he was a rotten roommate." When they get sick of each other, there is a whole city full of beautiful girls waiting to be swept off their feet. Will Hutchins (Sugarfoot) is Woody; Sandy Baron is Chuck; and Michael Constantine, Pamela Rodgers and Miko Mayama are their neighbors. Debut: NBC. Sunday, Sept. 11.

The Garry Moore Show will accentuate comedy and will lean heavily on a stock company of semiregular performers in its bid to make Moore's return to television a triumphant one. The company is a mixture of old pros and newcomers, all of them adept at comedy: Durward Kirby, Jackie Vernon, Eddie Lawrence, John Byner, Dick Davey, Patsy Elliott, Carol Corbett, Pete Barbutti and Ron Carey, among others. Guest stars will be used sparingly: Phil Silvers, Red Buttons, Morey Amsterdam, Rose Marie, Jim Backus and Frank Fontaine are among those expected to show. Debut: CBS, Sunday, Sept. 11.

bag but prefers to dispose of desperadoes and pests by whacking them with her purse. Hank has a kindly old mother (Ruth McDevitt), who perpetually wears a sweet smile and a tiny derringer, both of which she uses with devastating effect; a father (Douglas Fowley) who's as nearsighted as Mr. Magoo but somehow never misses what he's shooting at; a daughter, Lucy (Carole Wells), who has just come back from finishing school but hasn't forgotten how to handle a shootin' arn; and two cuddly pets—a wildcat named Kitty and a timber wolf called Bowser. Then there's Sheriff Harold Sikes (Gary Vinson), who's courting Miss Lucy and wishes her kinfolk would stick to their crocheting and leave at least some of the bad guys to him. Not a chance. Debut: CBS, Saturday, Sept. 17.

fathered it, is about a stranger with a fast gun and a mysterious past who takes the side of the homesteaders in their fight for survival against the cattlemen in a Wyoming valley. Nobody knows who Shane is, where he came from, what he has done. One day he just rode into the valley and hooked on as a hired hand with the Starett family. David Carradine, who has the lean and hungry look of his father, John Carradine, plays Shane. The Staretts are Jill Ireland, as a pretty widow who is drawn to Shane; Christopher Shea, as her 8-year-old son, who worships him; and Tom Tully, as the boy's grandfather. Shane's — and the settlers' — nemesis is Rufe Ryker (Bert Freed), who vows, "I'll go on fighting them sodbusters till I run 'em clear out of my valley." Shane and Ryker fight it out mostly with verbal jabs like this . . . SHANE: "It's all over for your kind, Ryker. Why don't you admit it?" RYKER: "Because I'm right." SHANE: "You were right yesterday; you're half right today. But tomorrow—that belongs to us." Shane is produced by Herbert Brodkin (The Defenders). Debut: ABC, Saturday, Sept. 10.

ROAD WEST

The Road West takes a pioneer family to Kansas in the 1860's. The show depicts what they face in their new homestead and what becomes of them as they begin their rugged new life. Pride is the name-widower Ben Pride, his three children, and his mother and father-and pride is the fuel that gives them the strength to endure the hardships and hostility they encounter. The Prides' lives are intertwined with those of headstrong Chance Reynolds and his sister Elizabeth, who, before too many episodes have passed, will become Ben's wife. Barry Sullivan is Ben; Andrew Prine, Brenda Scott and Kelly Corcoran are the offspring; Charles Seel and Katherine Squire are the old folks. Glenn Corbett and Kathryn Hays play the Reynoldses, Debut: NBC, Sept. 12.

Top: Brenda Scott, Andrew Prine, Glenn Corbett.
Middle: Charles Seel, Barry Sullivan, Kathryn Hays. Bottom: Kelly Corcoran

Roger Miller

The Roger Miller Show shapes up as a musical-variety series tailored to fit the unique dimensions of its star, the barefoot boy with chic who has become a oneman hit parade during the past year or so. There will be guests; lined up so far are George Burns, Petula Clark, Bill Cosby, Bobby Darin, Vince Edwards, Ernie Ford, Arthur Godfrey, Liberace, Anna Moffo, the Kingston Trio, and Peter, Paul and Mary. A lively group of singers and dancers called the Doodletown Pipers will lend regular support. Co-producers are Dwight Hemion, who produced recent specials for Frank Sinatra, Barbra Streisand and Miller; and Gary Smith, who did Hullabaloo. Debut: NBC, Sept. 12.

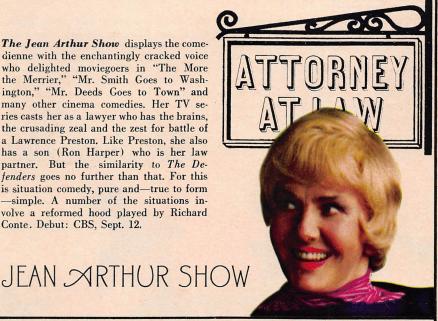

The Monkees is coming. And win, lose or draw, it's a series which, at least, is different. The premise is conventional enough: A rock-'n'-roll quartet romps through miscellaneous comic misadventures, pausing to sing things like "I wanna be free-ee-ee lahk the bluebirds ..." and to say things like "She's a groovy kid" and "You must be out of your bird." The difference is in the way the show is done. Just as its four leading men are patterned on the Beatles, its production techniques are borrowed in large measure from the Beatles' movies. The whole thing is played within a nonrealistic framework, with frenetic changes of costume and scene, slapstick chases, photographic pranks of all sorts. The four boys are Davy, Peter, Micky and "Wool Hat" (he usually wears one), played by David Jones, Peter Tork, Micky Dolenz and Mike Nesmith. Debut: NBC, Sept. 12.

The Monkees

The Jean Arthur Show displays the comedienne with the enchantingly cracked voice who delighted moviegoers in "The More the Merrier," "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" and many other cinema comedies. Her TV series casts her as a lawyer who has the brains, the crusading zeal and the zest for battle of a Lawrence Preston, Like Preston, she also has a son (Ron Harper) who is her law partner. But the similarity to The Detenders goes no further than that. For this is situation comedy, pure and-true to form -simple. A number of the situations involve a reformed hood played by Richard Conte. Debut: CBS, Sept. 12.

Run, Buddy, Run is part Fugitive, part Untouchables, part Mack Sennett — and all spoof. Buddy, a nebbish accountant, is on the lam because he has overheard some mobsters plotting a murder. The hoods have spread the word: "We want Buddy Overstreet—dead... or dead." So Buddy runs and runs and runs. The mob pursues and pursues and pursues. Bullets fly, cars careen and, in one of many wild chase scenes, Buddy goes barreling through a supermarket on a motorcycle. Moon-faced Jack Sheldon (The Cara Williams Show) is Buddy; Bruce Gordon, who was Frank Nitti in The Untouchables, now is the notorious underworld overlord, Devere; Jim Connell is Devere's prissy son; and Nick Georgiade and Gregg Palmer also run. Debut: CBS, Sept. 12.

Rat Patrol

The Rat Patrol refights the North African campaign during World War II. The rodents of the title are four desert commandos—Chris George as Sgt. Sam Troy, the hard-as-nails leader ("When I was a kid, it was all's fair in love and war. On my block it was mostly war"); Gary Raymond as Sgt. Jack Moffitt, a quietly competent Englishman ("I wrote my Doctor's thesis on the ecological factors of the nomadic tribes");

Justin Tarr as Pvt. Tully Pettigrew, a Kentucky moonshine runner; and Larry Casey as Mark Hitchcock, a rambunctious Ivy Leaguer. They zip about the desert in two jeeps, harassing and demoralizing the Afrika Korps and bugging one Nazi in particular, a desert rat fink played by Hans Gudegast. The traps he sets for the jeepsters are about as effective as those Tom devises for Jerry. Debut: ABC, Sept. 12.

OFFER EXPIRES NOVEMBER 1, 1966. (Void where prohibited by law.)

Dennis Cole

Howard Duff

Ben Alexander

The Felony Squad stars Howard Duff, Ben Alexander (the old Dragnet hand) and Dennis Cole as members of a big-city police force. The feel of the show can best be conveyed by some lines from one episode. DETECTIVE: "Today's breed of killer doesn't always oblige with a neat, understandable motive. That's what makes him so lethal-and us cops gray before our time." . . . Young punk: "Hey, listen. Maybe tonight we 'flame out.' Like we always planned, uh? We go out of this chintzy world like WOOSH!" . . . IRATE CIT-IZEN: "What I want to know is why you haven't arrested this . . . this degenerate scum. How many more murders before you people do something?" . . . DETECTIVE: "I'm going up there." Debut: ABC, Sept. 12.

is the one about the foot-loose bachelor and his haughty British manservant who suddenly become the foster parents of three children. Bill Davis (Brian Keith) has a plush pad in New York and nothing on his mind except deciding which delicious creature to dally with on any given evening. Then three orphans are left on his doorstep, and Davis puts them under the care of his man French (Sebastian Cabot), who announces: "Children! Back home in civilization, we have infancy and manhood. Nothing in between." Boy, is he in for it. Debut: CBS, Sept. 12.

Brian Keith, Sebastian Cabot

Iron Horse is the vehicle conveying Dale Robertson back to television's wide open spaces. Robertson is Ben Calhoun, who says, "There are two things every real gentleman should know: how to play poker and how to keep the peas from rollin' off his knife." He doesn't get to demonstrate his pea-eating aptitude, but his poker skill is confirmed by the fact that he has won a near-bankrupt railroad at the card table. The series describes his struggle to make the line a success by sweettalking creditors and potential customers, and using his fists, guns and ingenuity. He is aided by Gary Collins, Bob Random, Roger Torrey, a horse named Hannibal and a raccoon called Ulysses. Executive producer is Charles Marquis Warren (Gunsmoke, Rawhide, The Virginian). Debut: ABC, Sept. 12.

FOR THE RECORD

NET Assets: National Educational Television's plans for the new season are more ambitious than ever before. Among the wide range of new programs which NET will supply to the Nation's educational stations:

NET Playhouse is a weekly series of plays and movies of various lengths. It will offer works by Maxwell Anderson, Ossie Davis, Christopher Fry, Arthur Miller, Plautus, Shaw, Thornton Wilder and Tennessee Williams, among others. Their casts include Orson Bean, James Daly, Albert Dekker, Lotte Lenya and Barry Morse. Among the movies are "L'Aventura" and "Knife in the Water."

NET Journal, also a weekly series, encompasses all of NET's major documentaries. Some of the topics: schizophrenia, newspapers, the American Negro, higher education.

NET Science Presents is the overall title for a weekly series comprising eight experiment shows produced by Don Herbert (Mr. Wizard) and, for the rest of the season, a science-research series, Spectrum.

The Struggle for Peace since World War II is examined by specialists here and abroad in a 13-week series.

Segovia Master Class, a sequel to NET's Casals Master Class, is 14 halfhour programs with the great classical guitarist Andres Segovia.

NET specials deal with such subjects as Lizzie Borden, Westminster Abbey, Wagner's "Ring" cycle, Kurt Weill, Duke Ellington, Peter Ustinov, John Huston and Martin Buber.

Higher Education: With all this substantial programming on the way, and more good news on the satellite front, things are figuratively and literally looking up for educational television. First the Ford Foundation proposed a nonprofit broadcast satellite system which would provide money from commercial network users to help support educational television. The Communications Satellite Corp. (COM-SAT) didn't much like the idea of competition for its satellites, so it came up with an alternate proposition: Its satellite system would take money from all commercial users, not just the networks, to help support educational TV. And, like the Ford plan, it would also provide free satellite communications for noncommercial television. The decision on whether to adopt the Ford plan, the COMSAT plan or some other plan probably will be made by Congress.

Drama Week: It looks as if NBC is going to add some more impetus to the upsurge of good TV drama. With two out of three necessary sponsors signed already (Xerox and Celanese), the network is ready to go ahead with this unique plan: Beginning on April 17 there will be one hour of original drama each night for five consecutive nights. David Susskind will do the producing.

Jilted: For the second time in but a few months President Lyndon Johnson quietly called off a TV conversation with representatives of the three networks. The last time he showed up was back in March of 1964. Since then he just keeps breaking those dates.

HOUSE CALLER

Why do you make an evening at the Preview House ["Preview House," Aug. 201 sound like the most boring thing a person could possibly do? I have been there twice and have enjoyed myself both times. My friends also enjoyed themselves. Maybe I'm odd, but I'm glad to have the opportunity to fill out questionnaires telling how I feel about a show or commercial. At home all you can do is grumble to your family if you don't like something on TV. At the Preview House at least your gripes will be heard by someone who can do something about it. I would say most people would enjoy spending at least one evening at the Preview Houseand you can park free!

POW; BIFF . . . HIT!

If ever a series deserved primetime viewing it is the syndicated cartoon series Roger Ramjet, featuring that earnest, slow-witted super-hero ("All-American good guy and internationally known devil-may-care flying fool"). Here is adult TV humor—subtle, satirical, absurd—inappropriately shown on afternoon kiddie programs. CBS, this is your answer to Get Smart! Let's have Roger Ramjet do his inept hero work in the evening when he can be truly appreciated.

Mrs. E. G. MacMinn Victoria, B. C.

EAT, EAT!

As a parent trying to teach restraint and good table manners to my child, I cannot help but deplore the recent tendency toward "eating" commercials. What is edifying about a group of uncouth people greedily stuffing food into their overfed faces? Throughout the world there are millions of people who also "like to eat," and who would be quite happy with only a small percentage of what we well-nourished Americans consume.

Paul Ascherl Vermilion, Ohio

AVENGERER

When The Avengers made its American debut early this year, I paid it little attention. It wasn't until later that I caught the show, and now I'm sorry I missed the first few shows. I have watched it ever since, with a mixed feeling of awe and foreboding. Awe, that such a high level of skill could be maintained for so long; and foreboding, for I was certain that it could not survive. I imagine there were several reasons for its death. Like Secret Agent, its production quality was high, its dialog interesting and sprightly, and the pace fast, in marked contrast to The Man from U.N.C.L.E.'s dreary plodding.

2:00 3 4 7 8 WORLD SERIES OF GOLF in the fifth annual World Series of Golf is telecast from Firestone Country Club, Akron, Ohio. First prize is $50,000 (second money is $15,000; third, $7500; fourth, $5000).

The 36-hole tourney is open only to the present winners of the PGA, Masters, and U.S. and British opens.

This year's qualifiers are two-time World Series winner Jack Nicklaus (Masters and British Open), Billy Casper (U.S. Open) and Al Geiberger, who won the PGA on this course. Because Nicklaus won two of the qualifying tourneys, 1965 Canadian Open winner Gene Littler was invited to complete the foursome.

One of America's longest courses (par 70, 7180 yards), Firestone features large, rolling greens, narrow fairways and more than 100 traps. Its most famous hole is the par-5 16th, known as "625 yards of misery." (Live)

10:00 5 10 12 YOUNG MR. EISENHOWER

Dwight David Eisenhower as a West Point cadet

SPECIAL COLOR CBS News correspondent Harry Reasoner conducts this informal interview with former President Dwight David Eisenhower.

At the former Eisenhower family home in Abilene, Kan., Reasoner chats with Ike and his brother Milton about their childhood, and joins Mr. Eisenhower for a stroll through town. The scene shifts to West Point, N.Y., where Ike and Reasoner take a jeep tour through the grounds of the military academy. General Eisenhower talks about his years as a cadet (1911-1915), and tells how the experience helped shape his character. Ike also talks with the two cadets now sharing his former room.

Throughout the program, Mr. Eisenhower comments on his small-town upbringing and how it helped foster the values he holds important: industriousness, self-control, acceptance of responsibility and love of country.

Producer: Burton Benjamin. (60 min.)

'The Love Song of Barney Kempinski' of original TV hours, Murray Schisgal, author of the Broadway comedy hit "Luv," has combined slapstick comedy and hip humor for a madcap portrait of a New York character.

Barney Kempinski, thirtyish and contentedly self-unemployed, leaves his Lower East Side apartment smiling and happy. On this fine sunny day he is to be married—3 o'clock at City Hall—to his girl Francine. In the few remaining hours of his bachelorhood, Barney goes off to tour the city and sing his love song—exuberant, irresponsible and frequently dangerous—to life, love and the city of New York.

Can you ever get a bad one?

Can Miss America ever get a run in her stocking? Of course, she can.

And that occasional thing known as a "bum banana" can happen to us, too.

Let's face it. We're not dealing with some machine that turns out cars or soap.

We're dealing with nature.

And things can happen.

A banana with a defect can somehow slip by. Or a Chiquita Banana can spend the weekend on a store counter. Or a customer can prod where she should have patted. But, you'll have to admit, a bum Chiquita Brand Banana is no everyday thing.

We work too hard and care too much for that to happen.

Nobody else does. But nobody else has the guts to run an ad like this, either.

Chiquita® Brand Bananas.

When it comes to television shows, you're the expert.

That's why we'd like your opinion.

(You may even win one of 2,025 prizes.)

A shining new season started Tuesday, September 6, on the ABC Television Network. With sixteen new shows—more than you'll see on any other network—and thirteen of your returning favorites. All in color. Naturally, we hope you'll find them all entertaining. But since they're planned with you in mind, we'd really like to know what you think about them. So we've printed our schedule and an ABC Opinion Poll on the next pages. We ask you to express your thoughts on the Poll and mail it in to us. By way of encouragement and thanks, we're offering 25 General Electric 19-inch color television sets and 2,000 General Electric transistor radios as prizes. But winning a prize doesn't depend on your opinion of the shows. We just want to know what you honestly think of the shows that make up our Seven Nights to Remember on ABC.

Give us your opinion.

- 1. Look over the ABC schedule. Watch whichever shows you wish.
- 2. Then, to fill out the ABC Opinion Poll Entry Form, simply check the statement that comes closest to your opinion of each show. If none are close enough, write in your own comment.
- 3. We want your honest, candid opinion of our shows. Whatever you check, or whatever you write in, has nothing to do with winning a prize. You need answer only the questions you want.
- 4. All you need do is: Print, or write clearly, your name and address on your Entry Form and mail it to ABC Opinion Poll, Box 7, New York, N. Y. 10046. Entries must be postmarked no earlier than September 13, 1966, and no later than October 3, 1966.
- 5. Winners will be selected in random drawings conducted by D. L. Blair Corporation, an independent judging organization, whose decisions are final. Only one prize to a family. No substitutions will be made for any prize offered.
- 6. The ABC Opinion Poll is open to all residents of the United States except employees, and their families, of American Broadcasting Companies, Inc. and their advertising agencies. Offer void wherever prohibited by law.

ARKIEWROUNDERSS!

The Rounders has four actors billed as costars: Ron Haves, as cowhand Ben Jones, who remarks sagely, "It strikes me we ain't the smartest cowboys that ever lived"; Chill Wills, as Jim Ed Love, tyrant of the J. L. Ranch, who says, "Just you remember, I'm the bull goose around here": Patrick Wayne (son of John Wayne), as Ben's buddy Howdy Lewis, who keeps repeating, "Whatever suits you just tickles me plumb to death"; and Old Fooler, who doesn't say anything but steals every scene he's in. He's a horse with a mind of his own, whose favorite trick is to sit down sedately when someone wants him to buck. Each week devious Jim Ed tries to hornswoggle the two bird-brained cowhands, while the horse outsmarts all of them. Debut: ABC, Sept. 6.

THE PRUITTS OF SOUTHAMPTON are just like the Rockefellers and the Vanderbilts, except for two things: (1) They're broke. (2) Mrs. Pruitt looks, dresses and acts like Phyllis Diller. That's because she is Phyllis Diller, clowning her way through the role of a tapped-out society matron with all the delicacy of a bulldozer. For reasons that don't matter very much, the Pruitts are obliged to keep up appearances of wealth while trying to reconcile themselves to the squalid life of a family with only eight rooms, one butler and one car. Phyllis has to do the cooking, which gives her an opportunity to stuff a turkey while wearing full-length gloves, then put it into the washer to cook. And so it goes. Cast includes Reginald Gardiner, Gypsy Rose Lee, John McGiver, Richard Deacon, Grady Sutton, Lisa Loring, Pam Freeman. Debut: ABC, Sept. 6.

GIRL FROM U.N.G.L.E.

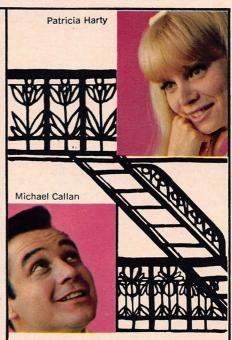

The Girl from U.N.C.L.E. is a kissing cousin of The Man from U.N.C.L.E. The new show has the same headquarters (behind the dry-cleaning shop), the same enemy (THRUSH) and the same attitude toward international intrigue (irreverent and slightly cockeved). And Napoleon Solo (Robert Vaughn), Illya Kuryakin (David Me-Callum) and Mr. Waverly (Leo G. Carroll) join The Girl from time to time. She is a comely young thing named April Dancer. Mr. Waverly is convinced that her unique endowments will be useful in U.N.C.L.E.'s fight against the nogoodniks. Solo isn't quite so sure. but on one of their joint ventures he discovers that Miss Dancer can be handy to have around. They are trapped in a London hotel. Mr. Waverly buzzes them on Channel D. WAVERLY'S VOICE: "What is your escape plan?" SOLO (to April): "Is that wool?" APRIL: "Is what wool?" SOLO: "The sweater you're wearing." APRIL: "Yes." SOLO: "Take it off." APRIL: "What?" WAVERLY: "Mr. Solo!" SOLO: "Sorry, sir. I'm going to need a large spool of yarn if the escape plan is to work." WAVERLY: "Very well." It takes a long time for that plot to unravel. April is played by Stefanie Powers. She is assisted by Noel Harrison (Rex's son), portraying an agent transferred from London's U.N.C.L.E. office, and by Randy Kirby (Durward's boy), as a part-time U.N.C.L.E. operative. Debut: NBC, Stefanie Powers Sept. 13.

LOYE ON A ROOFTOP

Love on a Rooftop is this year's newlywed comedy. The lovebirds are Julie (Judy Carne) and David (Peter Deuel). Their nest is a barely furnished, windowless flat with rooftop privileges, affording them a glorious view of San Francisco. Julie calls the roof their "patio." David, however, views things more realistically. "Honey," he says, "where I come from, anyplace with 14 TV antennas and pigeons is a .roof." Julie's father (Herbert Voland), a blustering used-car tycoon, is singularly unenthusiastic about the apartment. One episode deals with the couple's search for a bed. JULIE: "I don't want just any old bed. For one thing, we should get one that fits in with our decor." FATHER: "Have you tried the city dump?" Rich Little and Barbara Bostock play a pair of gabby neighbors. Debut: ABC, Sept. 6.

Oseasional Wife

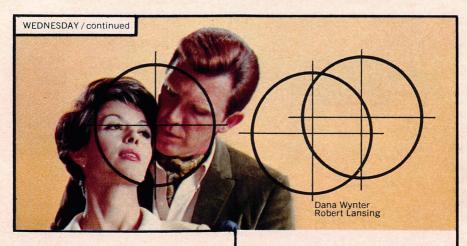

Occasional Wife asks you to accept this premise: Swinging bachelor has boss who frowns upon swinging bachelors. Swinging bachelor wants to make points with boss. So he proposes to hat-check girl: "Greta, I want you to be my wife ... occasionally." They make deal: He pays her rent and picks up tab for art lessons; she agrees to pose as his wife whenever the boss is in the neighborhood. Their apartments are connected by a fire escape, and the traffic on it-boy, girl, boy's girl friends, miscellaneous visitors-is a constant source of bewilderment and entertainment to the apartment house's other tenants. So are the couple's frequent arguments. HE: "Stop velling. They'll hear us." SHE: "So what. We're supposed to be married." The occasional spouses are Michael Callan and Patricia Harty. The boss: Jack Collins. Debut: NBC, Sept. 13.

STHE MONROES

The Monroes has a Western setting and is a saga of courage and strength, pitting man against his fellow man and against nature—but this is no ordinary Western adventure saga. In a way, it's the story of the winning of the West. Specifically, it's the story of a family of five orphans who struggle to make a life for themselves in the wilderness of the Wyoming Territory. The Monroes are Clayt, 18 (Michael Anderson Jr.); Kathleen, 16 (Barbara Hershey); Big Twin and Little Twin, 13 (Keith and Kevin Schultz); and Amy, 6 (Tammy Locke). In their struggle for survival they get some help from a nice friendly Indian, Jim (Ron Soble), and, grudgingly, from Major Mapoy (Liam Sullivan), a dour land baron who learns to respect the Monroes' determination but is confident that they won't stick it out. The scenery (the show is filmed at Jackson Hole, Wyo.) is gorgeous. Debut: ABC, Sept. 7.

MAN WHO NEVER WAS

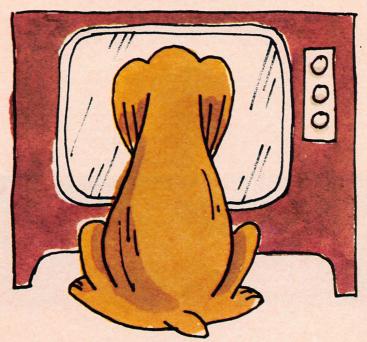

The Man Who Never Was is Peter Murphy, an American espionage agent who assumes the identity of a deceased billionaire playboy, Mark Wainwright, to dupe the East German police. Murphy has his work cut out for him. Wainwright flew his own jet, drove racing cars, was a champion skeet shooter and five-goal polo player, and shot to a two handicap in golf. Fortunately for Murphy, Wainwright's attractive widow has agreed to play along with the deception, which is set against the background of Europe's cities, where the series is being filmed. Robert Lansing, formerly of 12 O'clock High, is Murphy; Dana Wynter plays the widow Wainwright. Incidentally, there's one other habit of Wainwright's which Murphy has to emulate - he always drank at least three martinis before lunch. Polo, anyone? Whee! Debut: ABC, Sept. 7.

ABC Stage 67 could turn out to be, as its proud parents at ABC predict, "one of the most exciting and challenging programs ever presented by a national television network." All it has to do is look as good on the screen as it does on paper. A wide range of programs are in the works. Here are some of them: DRAMAS-"A Christmas Memory," by Truman Capote, with Geraldine Page; "The Human Voice," by Jean Cocteau, with Ingrid Bergman; "Noon Wine," by Katherine Anne Porter, with Jason Robards Jr. and Olivia de Havilland: "Dare I Weep, Dare I Mourn," by John Le Carré, with James Mason and Hugh Griffith; and the series' opening show, "The Love Song of Barney Kempinski," by Murray Schisgal, with Alan Arkin and Sir John Gielgud. Musical Shows—"The Canterville Ghost," based on Oscar Wilde's story, with songs by Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick, and starring Sir Michael Redgrave; "OLympus 7-0000," a musical fantasy by Jerome Chodorov and Richard Adler, with Donald O'Connor; "Rodgers & Hart TODAY," a songfest with Bobby Darin, Petula Clark and Count Basie: "Sour Grapes," a French musical-variety show; and "The Bob Dylan Show." OTHERS -"David Frost's Night Out in London," with Sir Laurence Olivier, Peter Sellers and Albert Finney: "The Kennedy Wit." with Jack Paar; "The Brave Rifles," recalling the Battle of the Bulge; and a look at Negro humor with Harry Belafonte. Most shows will be an hour; a few, 90 minutes. All will occupy the same late-evening, Wednesday time slot, Hubbell Robinson is in charge of production for the series. Debut: ABC, Sept. 14.

That Girl

That Girl is Marlo Thomas, Danny's bright-eved daughter, getting her big break in the role of a girl who's looking for her big break. Ann Marie, as she's called, wants to be an actress. She goes to New York and acquires the things every aspiring Bernhardt needs: a boy friend (Ted Bessell), an agent (George Carlin), a drama coach (Billy DeWolfe) and a wisecracking friend (Bonnie Scott). While she waits impatiently for the world to recognize her talents, she takes odd jobs, copes with parents who don't always understand her (Lew Parker and Rosemary De Camp), rushes from one audition to another and has the time of her life. Debut: ABC, Sept. 8.

THE TAMMY GRIMES SHOW

The Tammy Grimes Show stars the saucy comedienne as what the writers of publicity releases used to call a "madcap heiress." Come to think of it, they still do. This particular madcap heiress, Tammy Ward, has a twin brother (Dick Sargent) who is her exact opposite-he's a completely symmetrical square. The series recounts Tammy's persistent attempts to get her hands on her inheritance so that she can do all the uninhibited things madcap heiresses are wont to do-wear bizarre clothes, keep a roomful of tropical birds, frug the night away, buy a baseball player with a credit card, fly away to a ski lodge at the drop of a vodel. Despite the eternal vigilance of her skinflint Uncle Simon (Hiram Sherman), Tammy seems capable of living in the style to which madcap heiresses are accustomed as long as the money holds out and the ratings hold up. Debut: ABC, Sept. 8.

Star Trek takes us on a journey into the unexplored regions of space, aboard the USS Enterprise, a huge "star ship." Its commander is Capt. James Kirk (William Shatner). Its officers and crew include representatives of every known race and gender, plus one startling character called Mr. Spock (Leonard Nimoy), who has pointy ears, slanty eyebrows and Beatle bangs, and turns out to be half-earthling, half-Vulcanian and all business (creatures from the planet Vulcanis, as we all know, never display any emotion). What these galaxy-trotters run into out there is even stranger to behold than spooky Spocky. Examples: A force field that turns nice guvs into power-mad geniuses ("Our concern is not over Garyit's what he's mutating into!") and three voluptuous space bunnies with their con-man chaperone. The sky's not the limit on this trek. Debut: NBC, Sept. 8.

Jericho

Jericho is the code name for a trio of Allied agents who operate behind enemy lines during World War II. They are the familiar mixture of American (Don Francks), Englishman (John Leyton) and Frenchman (Marino Masé). In one episode they smuggle an entire symphony orchestra-101 musicians -out of Occupied France. In another they blow up submarine pens by passing out loaves of bread baked with explosives ("Here ... take one... Down there! Would you like some good French bread for Sunday dinner? ..."). Impossible? Not for the dynamic trio. They have something extra going for them: the convenient stupidity of all the Nazis they run into. Executive producer for the series is Norman Felton (Dr. Kildare, The Man from U.N.C.L.E.). Debut: CBS, Sept. 15.

Hawk is a cop. But he's a TV cop, which means that he's an Iroquois Indian who resembles Marlon Brando and wears a double-breasted blue blazer. Full name: John Hawk. Assignment: the Manhattan district attorney's special detective squad. Hawk's specialty is night people, particularly the ones who go around killing other night people. The show is filmed on the streets of New York, and this season no other weekly TV product can make that statement. Burt Reynolds is seen as Hawk, Wayne Grice as his eagerbeaver assistant and John Marley as a newsstand proprietor who knows everything that's going on in the city. Debut: ABC, Sept. 8.

The Green Hornet is a reasonably faithful translation of the old radio series. Its fearless hero is still Britt Reid, who by day is the debonair editor and publisher of the Daily Sentinel but by night takes up the wearing of the green—green felt fedora, green overcoat, green muffler, green mask—to become the scourge of organized crime known as (bzzzzz) The Green Hornet. At his side is his faithful manservant, Kato, who drives the Hornet's gadget-festooned limousine, Black Beauty, and who is schooled in Gung Fu, an inscrutable form of hand-to-hand combat. The Hornet is handy with his dukes too, and he also has a pair of non-lethal but potent weapons—a Hornet Gun, which shoots immobilizing gas, and the Hornet Sting, which releases supersonic sound waves—to keep his enemies honest. Van Williams has the title role, with Bruce Lee as Kato, and Lloyd Gough, Walter Brooke and Wende Wagner in supporting parts. The show is produced by William Dozier, the man behind Batman. Unlike Batman, however, The Green Hornet will have no cliffhangers and no recurring villains. And it's not intentionally funny. Debut: ABC, Sept. 9.

The Time Tunnel is the latest chunk of fantasy carved out by producer Irwin Allen (Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea, Lost in Space). This time his itinerant heroes, a pair of young scientists, are on an excursion through time. It seems their experimental time machine has a few bugs in it, and its operators can't control the destinations of the two travelers. So one week they're back in prehistoric times, another week they're on a rocket to the moon, or aboard the Titanic, or at the Battle of Gettysburg. Poor chaps never seem to get plopped down any place where they can just lie in the sun and enjoy life for an hour. Instead they have to keep saying things-like "How can I make you understand?" or "I know I sound insane, but you must believe me!" The yo-yo-ing scientists are played by James Darren and Robert Colbert. Meanwhile, back at the time machine, you can find their supporting cast—Lee Meriwether, John Zaremba and Whit Bissell—twisting dials like crazy and biting their fingernails. Debut: ABC, Sept. 9.

Tarzan brings Edgar Rice Burroughs' imperishable are man to the television jungle. Burroughs, however, would have trouble recognizing TV's Tarzan. He's a swinger in more ways than one. He swings from tree to tree, of course (where he hangs out, vines are standard equipment on everything that grows). But he also talks like this: "Let's get out of here-this neighborhood's getting rough," "No time for fun and games" and "Sorry, I didn't know this tree was taken." This Tarzan, you see, went to "the finest schools" after the apes raised him, and that's how he learned to speak so elegantly. This is, clearly, no "Me Tarzan, you Jane" clod; in fact, there's no Jane at all in his life. There's his trusty sidechimp. Cheetah, plus an orphan boy named Jai (Manuel Padilla Jr.), assorted aborigines, territorial cops, poachers and diamond thieves, and every conceivable variety of tropical flora and fauna (the show is filmed, in large part, in Latin America). Himself is Ron Ely, a rugged testimonial to the virtues of outdoor living. Ahroooooo! Debut: NBC, Sept. 8.

THE CBS FRIDAY NIGHT MOVIES

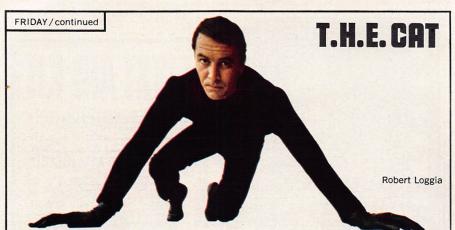

The CBS Friday Night Movies, newly added to the schedule this season, gives CBS two nights of prime-time movies to go with NBC's two and ABC's one, for a total of five flicks a week. This series comprises 24 films of recent origin, most of them in color. There are musicals ("The Music Man," "Bye, Bye, Birdie"), melodramas ("Die! Die! My Darling," "Kings Go Forth"), Westerns ("One-Eyed Jacks," "Major Dundee"), costume epics ("Genghis Khan," "The Long Ships") and comedies ("The Delicate Delinquent," "Gidget Goes to Rome"). The films are peopled by Marlon Brando, Yul Brynner, Tony Curtis, Alec Guinness, Charlton Heston, Janet Leigh, Jerry Lewis, Jeanne Moreau, Sidney Poitier, Anthony Quinn, Frank Sinatra, Dick Van Dyke and various casts of thousands. Would you believe hundreds? Dozens? Sal Mineo, Tuesday Weld and Sessue Hayakawa? Debut: CBS, Sept. 16.

T.H.E. Cat stands for Thomas Hewitt Edward Cat (Robert Loggia), who, they say, used to be a cat burglar. (No, Herbie, that doesn't mean he stole cats.) In any case he now is a professional bodyguard ("They say you've saved the lives of a thousand men. Is that true, sir?" "A slight exaggeration," says Cat modestly). He brings a rather impressive set of talents to his work—he scales walls, walks tightropes and carries a shiv up his sleeve. He spends his off-duty hours in a murky bistro called Casa del Gato (No, Herbie, it's not what it sounds like), owned by his gypsy friend Pepe (Robert Catricart). The locale is a contemporary metropolis, and you've never seen so many dark streets or ominous shadows in your life. In Hollywood they probably call it M.O.O.D. Debut: NBC, Sept. 16.

Milton Berle Show

The Milton Berle Show is "70 to 80 percent comedy," says its producer, Bill "José Jiménez" Dana. "The balance relates to variety." he adds. "and most variety will serve as a setting for an afterpiece. For instance, if we do a number, we'll do a travesty on it afterward." In other words, Uncle Miltie, as in days of yore, will be on stage most of the time. He'll eavort with such guests as Lucille Ball, David Janssen, Bette Davis, Martha Raye and Joey Bishop. He'll trade insults with a "heckler" planted in a box at the Hollywood Palace theater, where the show will be taped. He'll work with a group of regulars, including a pair of young singers-Bobby Rydell and Donna Loren. Through it all he'll be trying to prove that the man who was Mr. Television in the Forties and Fifties can still knock 'em dead in the Sixties, Debut: ABC, Sept. 9.

At Emerson, there are inspectors who inspect the inspectors.

For every eight or ten assembly line people, we have an inspector.

For every five inspectors, there's an inspector who inspects the inspector.

And to check them, we have 15 electronic tests that every set must pass.

All told, the 19-inch portable* you see went through 52 separate inspections, checks and tests.

Your inspection will show it has everything other black and white sets have. And more.

Like the Sleep Switch. Now you don't have to get out of bed to shut the set off. And you don't have to worry about waking up and finding a glaring white eye staring at you from the foot of the bed

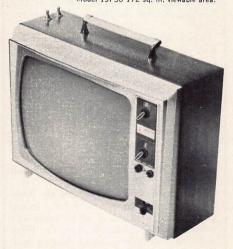

Just set the timer and the set will play up to three hours before turning itself off.

We build a little more into our sets than we have to. And we inspect them a little more than we have to. For good reason.

We're hoping that next time you're looking for a TV set, you'll do more than just inspect ours.

The Beagles are a couple of canine rock 'n' rollers who keep winding up in the doghouse. Debut: CBS, Sept. 10.

The Lone Ranger hi-hos into cartoonsville in what's called "a realistically animated Western." Will Tonto be around? Bet your boots. Debut: CBS, Sept. 10.

The New Adventures of Superman finds the comics' most famous phone-booth occupant up-up-and-awaying again. Bud Collyer, who spoke for Superman on radio, is back at the mike for this cartoon edition. Debut: CBS, Sept. 10.

The Road Runner is a bird who isn't much at flying but proves a whiz at outrunning and outsmarting a wheezy coyote. Debut: CBS, Sept. 10.

The Space Ghost flies through space with the greatest of ease while dragging around his two wards, Jan and Jayce. Debut: CBS, Sept. 10.

Television's 1966-67 sports coverage should provide more than enough action to keep America's armchair athletes happy.

Here's the lineup to date:

Professional Football: CBS will telecast 103 National Football League contests from Sept. 10 on through the championship game. Most games will be seen regionally on Sunday afternoons. But on three nights—Saturday, Sept. 10; Monday, Oct. 31; and Thanksgiving, Nov. 24—the scheduled games will be televised nation-wide. So will the traditional Thanksgiving daytime skirmish between San Francisco and Detroit. NFL—Countdown to Kickoff is also back on Saturday afternoons with its preview of the weekend's action.

NBC kicked off its American Football League network coverage Sept. 4 with the 1965 champion Buffalo Bills meeting the San Diego Chargers. The majority of the AFL's remaining 57 games will be seen regionally on Sunday afternoons. On Saturdays NBC will have AFL Report, a half hour of previews, reviews and features.

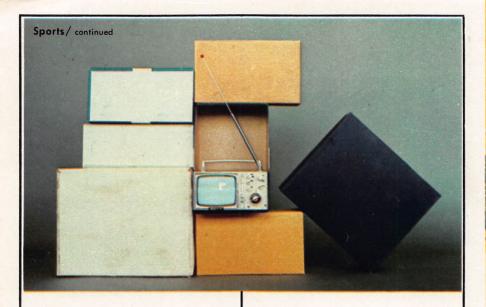

And the first annual world championship tilt between the NFL and AFL titleholders will be telecast in January by a network not yet designated.

College Football: ABC begins its coverage of National Collegiate Athletic Association games Sept. 10. The network will carry 32 NCAA contests in all, eight nationally and 24 regionally. As a rule the games will be seen on Saturdays. One exception: Nebraska meeting Oklahoma on Thanksgiving Day. ABC also plans to carry the Liberty Bowl (Dec. 10), the Bluebonnet Bowl (Dec. 17), the North-South All-Star Game (Dec. 26), the Gator Bowl (Dec. 31) and the Coaches All-America Game next summer. CBS has the Blue-Gray contest (Dec. 24) and the Cotton Bowl (Dec. 31) telecasts tied up, while NBC will cover the Sun Bowl (Dec. 24), the East-West Shrine Game (Dec. 31), the Sugar Bowl, the Orange Bowl and the Rose Bowl (all Jan. 2) and the Senior Bowl (Jan. 7).

Baseball: NBC will telecast the World Series starting Oct. 5. Then, in April, the network picks up one major-league game a week on Saturday afternoons. Three night games will also be shown: most likely Memorial Day, the Fourth of July and Labor Day. The All-Star Game, in July, also shows up on NBC.

Basketball: ABC will cover 12 regularseason National Basketball Association games and five NBA play-offs on Sundays beginning Jan. 1, CBS plans continued to cover the first round of the National Invitational Tournament on March 11, and the championship NIT game on March 18. And some NCAA play-off games will be shown in some areas.

Golf: CBS gets the golf competition under way Jan. 14 with its CBS Golf Classic. Thirty-two leading pros tee off Saturdays, aiming for the final play-off April 23 with its $50,000 purse. The network also carries the Masters golf tournament (April 8 and 9), and the $200,000 Carling World Golf Championship in midsummer.

NBC's World Series of Golf will be telecast from Akron, Ohio, on Sept. 10 and 11, followed by the Bob Hope Desert Classic in February, the National Golf Day tournament on Memorial Day and the Buick Open in June. The network's Wonderful World of Golf returns this winter.

ABC plans to cover 14 tourneys, including: Bing Crosby's Pebble Beach tournament (Jan. 21-22); the Tournament of Champions (April 15-16); the U.S. Open (June 17-18); the U.S. Women's Open (July 2); the British Open (July 15-16); the PGA (July 22-23) and the American Golf Classic (Aug. 12-13).

Bowling: ABC's Professional Bowlers Tour

goes into its sixth season in January.

Horse Racing: CBS will carry the Triple Crown: the Kentucky Derby (May 6); the Preakness (May 20) and the Belmont Stakes (June 3). The network also covers the United Nations Handicap, Sept. 17. Various: The U.S. Tennis Championships, held at Forest Hills, N.Y., will be telecast by ABC on Sept. 11. ABC expects to bring viewers some championship boxing bouts too. In addition, both ABC and CBS plan to bring back their 90-minute weekend sports shows: the CBS Sports Spectacular on Sundays and ABC's Wide World of Sports on Saturdays. ABC's The American Sportsman also returns.

Three seasons ago there were two weekly prime-time movies on television. Two seasons ago there were three. Last season, four. And now there are five, as CBS adds a second night of movies to its schedule.

No question about it, what we have here is a trend—the most conspicuous trend in television programming at the moment.

What it means this season is that the networks will offer some 150 feature films, plus reruns. They'll be shown Saturday nights on NBC, Sundays on ABC, Tuesdays on NBC, Thursdays on CBS and Fridays on CBS.

In addition to its normal Sunday movie night, ABC this fall will pre-empt its regular programming for movie "specials" on at least two occasions—on Sunday, Sept. 25, the network will knock off all of its regular nighttime shows to make room for "The Bridge on the River Kwai" to be presented in its entirety. And Friday, Nov. 4, "Hans Christian Andersen" will be shown as a 2½-hour special.

There will be a few ringers mixed in with the films that were shown originally in theaters. The available supply of movies is not quite adequate to fill those 10 hours a week that the networks have set aside for them. Thus the networks have entered into agreements with film studios for the production of low-budget feature-length films tailored specifically for TV.

One such is NBC's "How I Spent My Summer Vacation," with Robert Wagner, Peter Lawford and Lola Albright. Another is a Universal remake of "Winchester '73" which will also serve as the pilot film for a new NBC series. For ABC, MGM is making three quickies. And there will be others.

As for the genuine articles —here's what's in store:

Among ABC's feature films this season, in addition to those already mentioned, will be: "Bus Stop" (Marilyn Monroe), "Can-Can" (Frank Sinatra, Shirley MacLaine), "High Society" (Sinatra, Bing Crosby, Grace Kelly), "Jumbo" (Doris Day), "King Solomon's Mines" (Stewart Granger) and "Kissin' Cousins" (Elvis Presley).

Also: "Of Human Bondage" (Kim Novak), "Porgy and Bess" (Sidney Poitier), "The Prize" (Paul Newman), "The VIP's" (Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton), "The Young Lions" (Marlon Brando, Montgomery Clift) and "Ulysses" (Kirk Douglas, Anthony Quinn).

Some of CBS's movies are listed in the preview of the network's new Friday film series, on page 53. The Thursday series, held over from last year, will include: "A Raisin in the Sun" (Sidney Poitier), "Advise & Consent" (Henry Fonda, Charles Laughton), "Baby the Rain Must Fall" (Steve McQueen), "Breakfast at Tiffany's" (Audrey Hepburn) and "By Love Possessed" (Lana Turner).

Also: "Fail Safe" (Henry Fonda), "Lilies of the Field" (Sidney Poitier), "Psycho" (Anthony Perkins), "Summer and Smoke" (Geraldine Page), "Toys in the Attic" (Dean Martin), "Two for the Seesaw" (Robert Mitchum, Shirley MacLaine) and "The Victors" (George Hamilton, Vincent Edwards).

NBC's cinema agenda includes: "All the Way Home" (Robert Preston), "Lonely Are the Brave" (Kirk Douglas), "Rear Window" (Grace Kelly, James Stewart), "Roman Holiday" (Gregory Peck, Audrey Hepburn) and "Sabrina" (Humphrey Bogart, Audrey Hepburn).

Also: "The Joker Is Wild" (Frank Sinatra), "The Man Who Knew Too Much" (Doris Day, James Stewart), "The Matchmaker" (Shirley Booth), "The Ugly American" (Marlon Brando) and "White Christmas" (Bing Crosby, Danny Kaye).

Our brand-new tuning eye makes it easy to tune color like this. As easy as tuning a radio. We've eliminated the guesswork in tuning the picture. Just turn the fine tuning dial until the little green eye is at its narrowest point, and you've got it. On UHF or VHF. Then it's only a matter of adjusting the color tint to your personal taste.

Another reason the color is as good as what you're seeing here (telecast by WKBS-TV, Channel 48, Philadelphia, photographed from a production model Philco set at 1/15th second on ASA 160 film) is that we've made the vital signal system completely solid state. That means there are no old-style vacuum tubes in those circuits to heat up or burn out. Just cool little space-age miracles that sit quietly pulling in the kind of great color you're seeing here.

We've done other good things, too. But all we're trying to do right here is get you interested. Interested enough to find out more from your Philco dealer. And see some color programs on a Philco for yourself. Then make up your own mind. We'll take our chances on that.
